TURNOUT CHECKLIST

Powered by Kensington

As the days grow longer and temperatures rise, summer in the barn brings a familiar set of challenges, heat, insects, sun exposure, and the constant balancing act between turnout and protection. This season, Kensington continues to define what it means to combine performance, durability, and thoughtful design with its lineup of warm-weather essentials built for both horse and rider.

At the core of Kensington's summer collection is a philosophy rooted in protection without compromise, keeping horses cool, comfortable, and impeccably turned out, even in the height of the season.

THE FOUNDATION: PROTECTIVE FLY SHEETS REIMAGINED

Kensington's signature Protective Fly Sheet stands as a staple for summer turnout. Crafted from durable Textilene® mesh, the sheet offers an impressive balance of breathability and protection, shielding horses from flies while allowing air to circulate freely.

With up to 73% UV protection, these sheets help prevent coat bleaching and sunburn, particularly important for darker coats and sensitive-skinned horses.

Unlike heavier turnout blankets, fly sheets are designed specifically for warm weather, using open mesh construction to block insects without trapping heat.

The result: a horse that stays cooler, cleaner, and more comfortable during long days in the paddock.

BUILT FOR PERFORMANCE: FABRIC THAT WORKS WITH THE HORSE

What sets Kensington apart is its commitment to materials that do more than just protect. The brand's proprietary mesh is engineered to:

- Promote airflow and prevent heat retention
- Resist fading, wear, and environmental stress
- Help keep coats clean by repelling dirt and debris
- Encourage natural oil distribution for a healthier, shinier coat

It's a subtle but powerful difference, products that actively enhance the horse's condition while they're being worn.

CUSTOMIZABLE COVERAGE: THOUGHTFUL ADD-ONS FOR TOTAL PROTECTION

Summer turnout isn't one-size-fits-all, and Kensington's modular approach reflects that. Riders can build a complete protection system tailored to their horse's needs with:

- Neck covers for mane and crest protection
- Belly bands to shield sensitive underlines
- Fly boots to reduce stomping and irritation
- Tail bags designed to protect growth and fullness

BEYOND FUNCTION: STYLE MEETS PRACTICALITY

True to Horse & Style's ethos, performance doesn't come at the expense of aesthetic. Kensington's signature plaid patterns and refined colorways bring a polished look to everyday turnout, proof that even functional gear can feel elevated. The brand's attention to fit also ensures a tailored silhouette, with thoughtful features like contoured cuts, adjustable closures, and padded pressure points that move with the horse rather than against it.

WHY IT MATTERS IN SUMMER

Summer management is about more than comfort, it's about consistency in condition. From preventing coat damage to minimizing irritation and maintaining overall wellness, the right turnout gear plays a critical role in a horse's daily routine.

Kensington's approach simplifies that equation: fewer compromises, more coverage, and products that work as hard as your horse does.

For riders looking to streamline their summer setup, Kensington offers a comprehensive solution rooted in durability, innovation, and thoughtful design. Whether in the show barn or at home turnout, these pieces are built to handle the realities of the season, while keeping horses looking and feeling their best.
